Important Maintenance Responsibilities Information

We will handle any major maintenance issues that arise in your home. It is important to contact us in these instances so you can avoid responsibility for any repairs you unsuccessfully attempt, and additional damage that could result. Likewise, do your best to keep the home in good order to avoid charges for any damage or conditions beyond normal wear and tear caused by you or your guests.

Please reference the list below for further guidance, and feel free to call us if you have a question or are uncertain which party is responsible for a maintenance item.

We want your experience to be as carefree as possible and would like to help you keep everything in great condition. If anything in your home is not working properly, please be sure to report it as soon as possible.
